

I completely oppose rescinding the rule prohibiting ownership by one company of several media in a given area.

For a Democracy to survive we need multiple voices and positions, with independent media.

There is too much concentration of media power already. The people need as much choice as possible.